CLEANSE THE PALETTE

The easiest way to highlight the high planes of the face. Chubby Stick Sculpting Highlight in Hefty Highlight.

►►► For spring makeup, it's all about baring it all — or at least looking like it. At 3.1 Phillip Lim, Francelle Daly for NARS Cosmetics highlighted cheekbones and the bridge of the nose to re-create “the way the morning light hits you” in the bedroom. On the other end of the spectrum, NARS Director of Global Artistry James Boehmer kept skin very matte, with just the finest line of liquid liner and a pale, chalky-pink lip, reflecting the traditional-modern mix of Tome’s collection inspired by the classical Indian dancer Rukmini Devi Arundale and contemporary photographer Dayanita Singh. If you can’t bear to go truly bare faced, mimic the look with monochromatic shades in nudes and browns like at Rag & Bone.

This revolutionary makeup brush has the plushiest bristles that buff on foundation for an airbrushed finish. Artis Elite Oval 8 Brush.
